

Citizant Continues EA Support at CMS with New Business Process Modeling Task Order

Citizant Awarded Subcontract Under DCCA's Five-Year Task Order

CHANTILLY, Va., June 17, 2008 — Citizant, one of the Washington region's leading providers of government professional technical solutions, today announced that it has received a subcontract from Data Computer Corporation of America (DCCA) to continue modeling business processes in support of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) enterprise architecture (EA) initiative.

The Citizant team began working with CMS in August 2007 to analyze and document complex business processes across the organization thus allowing CMS to evaluate and validate IT investment decisions.

Under this new task order, the Citizant-DCCA team will continue building both baseline and target business process models that help business owners identify areas for improvement in the target business landscape. In addition to identifying reuse and consolidation opportunities, this comprehensive analysis of the business, application, data, and technology components will also guide CMS' Health IT modernization efforts and support mission-critical goals.

"The Citizant-DCCA team members have proved themselves an invaluable asset in furthering CMS' modernization initiatives," said Tim Rinaman, Group Vice President of Citizant's EA Group. "This is a perfect account for Citizant because it leverages our premiere EA capabilities and aligns with our focus on contracts that have a strong citizen impact. Not only is our team helping CMS better serve more than 90 million Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries, we are also facilitating collaboration and information sharing between the business and information technology communities. It is exciting to watch the true benefits of EA unfold in an agency environment."
